50 YEARS OLD — NILES, CALIFORNIA FRIDAY, JULY 29, 1938 — No. 30

AROUND the TOWNSHIP

Sixty-four years married and 52 years of residence in the same home.

There's a record to shoot at.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Thane, who today are observing their anniversary.

* * * *

Education away from home is popular among Alameda County Junior College students.

Statistics cited are that 955 students of the county attended junior colleges in 15 counties in the school year of 1937-38.

And, the tuition of every one of them was paid by funds that had to be raised by the board of supervisors. That is the law.

A junior college in Alameda County might prove a profitable investment right now. Certainly, in the near future it bids fair to become a necessity.

Somewhere in Washington Township there is a splendid site for such an institution.

* * * *

Two little long-haired bundles of well fed black canine found dodging traffic on a Centerville business street Monday brought forth condemnation from Deputy Sheriff Tom Silva. So wrought up was the officer over the incident that he issued the warning that anyone found abandoning dogs will be made to answer for cruelty to animals.

Failing to find a home for the pair, there was no alternative but to call out the humane society.

* * * *

Somebody thinks of everything.

Now the question is being asked: "Is the present site large enough and good enough for a new school building of the proportions of the proposed Niles Grammar School?"

Also: "Wouldn't it look better on a more commodious location, such as an entire city block, surrounded on all sides by streets?"

Well, maybe so. Anyhow, this matter of a suitable site is worth looking into. And, if the financing can be accomplished, it will prevent cramping of facilities at some time in the future.

Maybe the trustees are away ahead of us again and already are moving in that direction.

Migratory Marsh Mosquito Invasion Halted By Oiling

Invasion of Washington Township by migratory marsh mosquitoes was halted by emergency oiling of the Arden-Plummer property near Newark, Roland Bendel Mosquito Abatement District foreman, announced today.

Bendel reports that high tides late in June broke through a weakened section of dyke and flooded approximatey 150 acres of reclaimed marsh. There was an immediate hatching of thousands of Aedes dorsalis larvae, which Bendel's crew oiled just in time to prevent a flight of adult mosquitoes.

The dyke is now being strengthened and the flood waters pumped out. Because of peaty ground it is difficult to prevent settling of dykes on the Plummer marsh, and this area has consistently given the abatement district trouble.

A new mosquito problem on a marsh in the Coyote Hills area was caused by the diversion into a new outlet of water from Alameda Creek. The difficulty has been corrected by the construction of approximately 1,500 feet of drain ditch, Bendel said.

Regular oiling of dairy drains, cess-pools, creek beds, and miscellaneous collections of standing water for the purpose of subduing fresh water mosquito breeding will be continued during the summer and fall months, Bendel reports.

Double Tragedy on Decoto Bridge Road Overtakes Newark Estranged Couple on Thursday

NEWARK—In the light of a bright sun on the open highway from Decoto to Dumbarton Bridge, Edward Neves of Newark shot and killed his estranged wife, Carrie Neves, and then turned the gun on himself with fatal results at 11:30 a. m. Thursday.

The couple abandoned their automobile 122 feet away and after an apparant running struggle in which eye glasses, a purse and other small articles belonging to the woman were strewn along the highway, fell in a heap on the paved highway both dead.

Bruises on the body indicated the woman attempted desperately to get away from her husband and his gun. She was unsuccessful and apparently was shot from behind while running.

Her body lay face upward and his body was criss-crossed on top of it, face downward. The gun, a .38 calibre revolver from which three bullets had been fired, was found between the bodies. Neves had been shot through the face and Mrs. Neves in the shoulder.

Both were 42 years of age and had 11 children, the oldest 23 and the youngest five years.

Mrs. Neves was staying with a sister, Mrs. Eddie Goularte, in Decoto. Neves and his unmarried children made their home in Newark. It was stated that he had instituted divorce proceedings some time ago.

Nothing was learned of the argument that precipitated the murder and suicide. Neves was said to have called at the Goularte home shortly before the shooting occurred. Mrs. Neves refused to accompany him until he was said to have threatened her with a gun.

The couple drove away and when within two miles of Newark, the double tragedy was staged, less than a city block from the Patterson ranch.

Deputy Sheriff Tom Silva of Centerville and deputies from the sheriff's office at Hayward, the Highway Patrol and Deputy Coroner Dallas Paul were on the scene. The bodies were removed to the Chapel of the Palms undertaking parlors at Centerville.

The children are Mrs. Leonard Roderick, 23; Mrs. Ed Silva, 22; Mrs. Lloyd Dias, 18; and Milton 21; Bernice, 16; Herman, 13; Ruth, 10; Donald, 9; Shirley, 7; and Eugene, 5.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed on Thursday afternoon.
